Hi Tocky:

Glad the dinner was good! What did you get?

We do not allow pork chop lots or back lot subdivisions. The town is adamantly against these and would not consider them at all.

Maybe that makes your job easier…..

Susan

Subject: question

Susan,
1. My family had a great meal at the River House a couple of weeks ago.
2. How is Rye looking at porkchop lots these days. I'm assuming a variance would be required, but wondering if they would want 50' width going in or perhaps they would prefer narrower to prevent future town road..... any history or thoughts on this? off the record, of course.....
I am looking to do a replacement septic system near where a client might like to reserve access for a future backlot and wondering if I need to make the leach field 70' from the property line where the backlot access strip could run (which I would rather not have to do as I am between a minor rock and a hard place with the grading).
Thanks if you can help me with this at all...
Tocky
